A Junk Dealer Fined.

Detective Block had Rachel Levi brought into the Police Court this morning on a charge of violating the police regulations in not keeping a book showing the goods purchased by her as the keeper of a junk shop. A pair of pants were produced in court that had not been properly entered, although on the regular reports the purchase was shown. LOCAL STOCKS.

Transactions on the Washington Exchange—Notes and Gossip.

The features of the local stock market yesterday were the continued strength of Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone and the apparent weakness of Graphophone stock. On pretty free selling of Telephone the price steadily advanced. Ten shares went for 74 1/2, 74 3/4, 74 1/2 and 74 3/4. It is generally conceded that by the timely interpolation of the Currier holders of this stock have saved many thousands of dollars. When it is remembered that the capital of the company exceeds two and one-half millions of dollars, and that largely through the efforts of this paper a recovery of six per cent has been recorded, saving to the stock holders $150,000, many of whom are poor and have their little all in this stock, The Critic is not afraid that its efforts in this respect will not receive public recognition, and that its advice on other equally worthy stocks will not be found just as valuable.

For a $500 convertible bond of the Washington and Georgetown Railroad 2 1/2 was paid. Consider all the advantages attaching to these securities, the price is reasonable. The strength of American Security and Trust stock continues, 50 shares bringing 50 1/2, with 50 bid for more, and the offering close to the bid price, indicating that some one is willing to risk making what he thinks a low sale to hold down the price.

As intimated above, the weakness of graphophone stock is in appearance only, and the day and hour may already have arrived when those who want the stock largely, at current rates, may see that the opportunity for obtaining it at its present low rates cannot continue. But 25 shares changed hands yesterday. The bid brought 14 1/2. At 14 1/2 more stock could have been had; for by the strict rules of the exchange every published quotation on the "call" must represent $1,000 worth of each security, or of graphophone stock not less than 50 shares.

So, as this stock is believed to have been artificially depressed by those who really want to buy, offerings coming from no other source, and the recent wiping from the earth of operators of a similar kind all over the country having proved so salutary, it is altogether probable that the low quotations on this stock may disappear at any moment like the baseless fabric of a dream, and leave naked behind but two or three wrecked bears, much inclined by those who have failed to profit by their temerity.

The only sale of Electric Light stock was that of 10 shares privately by a philanthropic broker at 135. The delivery was made by handing over convertible bonds, but as the coupons had been cut off the issue of the stock could not be made, but will be in time to secure the buyer the $2 quarterly dividend on the stock by the 1st day of July. It is quite probable that the broker intended in the transaction to reserve the accrued interest. If so, the bonds would be yielding about 12 1/2, which is really a low price for this stock.

The high rate for money, 15 per cent, on call, in New York yesterday is well understood in Washington. This is the explanation: There are nearly 4,000 national banks in this country. The law requires the controller of the currency to call upon the banks five times each year for a statement of their condition. Although no dates are fixed for these calls, the banks are able to form correct judgments as to when they are about to be made. Either from anxiety to make favorable showings or because of less worthy motives, it is not unusual for the banks to temporarily withhold accommodations from brokers and others who ordinarily they would be glad to grant. So momentarily sometimes rates are run up to fabulous figures. The Controller has been away from the city and no call has been made, though it has been daily looked for since the 12th. Possibly no call will be made immediately. It rests with him.

The bucket-shop failures are not to be understood as reflections on the financial condition of the country. They show that operating on the supposition that good stocks can be kept down by the frontiers of reckless men has centered in this time of real prosperity a thing of safety.
